FIRST OF MAY HERE AND NO ADJOURNMENT

Congress Seems Destined to Continue Session on Indefinitely

CLOSE TAX GAP

Move Is on in the Senate to Reach Roosevelt Estimate

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—The first of May, the date originally mentioned by leaders as the deadline for the end of the congressional session, arrived today with no sign of adjournment in sight. Though the house had passed the tax bill, the measure had barely started its journey through the senate, and neither chamber had acted on the president's request for a $1,000,000,000 relief appropriation for next year. As the senate finance committee gathered again to consider taxes, Senate La Follette (Prog. Wis.) moved forward with a proposal to an additional $226,000,000 a year by increasing surtax rates on dual incomes.

This was a move to help close a revenue gap between the house tax bill and President Roosevelt's request. Secretary Morgenthau had urged the senators to raise the full $226,000,000 lost when this year's tax processing taxes were invalidated. Treasury experts estimated that a house bill featured by a new income, would raise $620,000,000 of permanent revenue annually, but only $180,000,000 of the $517,000,000 in temporary revenue asked by the president.

In the house, inflationists and their foes were lining up for a test of strength, perhaps on May 11, on the Frazier-Lemke bill, which would refund farmers' indebtedness with $3,000,000,000 of new currency.

OF C. ATTITUDE

After announcing its stand on tax, trade agreements and other controversies of the day, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States embarked today on a nationwide study to see how many jobs are available in private industry.

The Chamber wound up its 24th annual convention late yesterday by re-electing Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y., as its president and adopting resolutions. The convention, which heard speeches on unemployment and its cure, determined upon the nationwide survey on the ground that it is necessary to collect data to approach the problem correctly.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

Thousands of marchers paraded today to New York's Union Square in observance of May Day while in Europe, columns of soldiers tramped past Lenin's tomb in Moscow's Red Square and Adolf Hitler made a plea for peace.

Miami, Fla., May 1.—(AP)—Morrison B. Orr of Piqua, Ohio, over whose affections a prolonged legal battle has been waged here, today secured an injunction forbidding his estranged wife, Gladys, from taking their daughter, Maury, 9, out of the Miami court's jurisdiction until after the hearing of his divorce suit.

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart, woman flyer, told the Senate Air Safety committee today there was "no group more loyal, interested and conscientious" than those in the Bureau of Air Commerce.

Covington, Ky., May 1.—(AP)—Commonwealth Attorney Ullie J. Howard said today Mrs. Helen Burdall, wealthy Cincinnati widow, would be called before a grand jury investigating charges of gambling at a Covington night club. The regular grand jury will be impaneled May 25.

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—As the government today pressed its effort to collect $3,089,000 from Andrew W. Mellon for alleged deficiency in his 1931 income tax, counsel for the former treasury secretary "suggested" that political expediency was the administration's only consideration in the case.

New York, May 1.—(AP)—The Appellate division today dismissed Helen Kane's appeal from a lower court rejection of her $250,000 damages suit against the Paramount-Publix Corp., for using her style of "Boop-Boop-A-Doop" singing in animated cartoons.

Constance Williams

Constance Williams, St. Joseph, Mo., beauty, thought her intended was just plain "Robert J. Hall," an itinerant relief worker. He courted her as such. But when they were married, the "Robert J. Hall" turned out to be Angus Gallagher, scion of a wealthy Youngstown, O., family and inheritor of a $250,000 fortune. It seems that "Hall" or Gallagher was unwilling to have the name of Gallagher tarnished by his luckless estate, so when he began life as a hobo he took the name of Hall. It was as Hall he won Miss Williams.

BANDIT AND MOLL RETURNED TO INDIANAPOLIS WHERE HE ADMITS HE KILLED OFFICER

Two More of Gang Rounded Up After Lima, O., Robbery—Part of Loot Found When Man and Woman, Who Aided Getaway and Hid Robber Cars, Are Nabbed.

Indianapolis, May 1.—(AP)—Indianapolis policemen brought Alfred Brady back here from Chicago today to face charges that he killed Sergeant Richard Rivers, one of their fellow officers, last Monday night.

Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning three automobile loads of policemen with the heavily manacled Brady and Margaret Barry, 23, who was arrested with him in Chicago, rolled into the police garage here and a few minutes later the pair was hustled into cells to await further questioning.

Rivers was killed here Monday night when four gunmen shot their way through a police squad that sought to question them in connection with a jewelry store robbery at Lima, O., earlier that day.

Neither Brady nor Mrs. Barry, who told Police Chief Michael P. Morrissey in Chicago last night that she would marry Brady "even if we go to the chair," spoke more than a few words when they were brought into police station here.

When the couple was marched from the garage into the detective office Brady walked within a few feet of the two automobiles which police say the gunmen burned early Tuesday in an effort to remove all tell-tale finger prints and bloodstains. Brady glanced at the cars as he passed.

In the same jail today were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hart of Indianapolis. (Continued on Page Six.)

At Least Three Killed and Many Injured as Wind Spreads Havoc

Elk City, Okla., May 1.—(AP)—One man was feared drowned, a half dozen farm families were unaccounted for, and a score of business houses and homes were damaged or washed away in a sudden flood that swept through eastern Elk City early today.

A rescue crew of forty men splashed through the mud along the banks of a branch of Elk Creek, two miles east of here in search of the body of a man believed to be George Bates.

Another crew was attempting to make its way over highways blocked by washed out bridges to find at least six farm families, living below Elk City's reservoir, which sent forty acres of water flowing down on the rural community when the reservoir dam gave away.

The automobile, which Bates was believed to have been driving, was swept from a bridge over a branch of Elk Creek two miles west of Elk City, when the normally dry ravine was turned into a raging torrent by the heavy downpour.

The downpour, totaling 5.1 inches at midnight, sent Elk Creek surging over its banks, sweeping through the eastern side of Elk City, and damaging a half dozen business houses.

Flood waters also swept away the dam of Elk City's reservoir, south of the city, after filling the reservoir in a few minutes.

Fear was held for the safety of a half-dozen farm families living below the dam. The lake's forty acres of impounded water roared down the valley as the dam burst.

George Hayden, Okla. City truck driver, narrowly escaped death as he attempted to "cross" Racing creek east of the city.

No word has been received from the farming community.

A "squatter's camp" on the eastern fringe of Elk City, and an eastern Elk City business district were in the path of the flood waters from Elk creek, which spread a mile wide in some places.

City police said "two or three" of the shacks had been washed downstream, while the water covered many more. Police said a preliminary check showed no one missing in the camp.

Business men reported damage would total several thousand dollars in the eastern business district, where a laundry, a large creamery, and four smaller business houses were flooded.

Spirit Lake, Ia., May 1.—(AP)—Four known dead, 50 injured and heavy property damage were listed today in the wake of a tornado that cut a swath of destruction across northwest Iowa and Southern Minnesota.

WENDEL CASE IS NOW NEAR CLIMAX, TIP

Full Story of Kidnaping and Extortion Expected by District Attorney

5 ALREADY INDICTED

Effort to Save Bruno Is Developing Sensations

Brooklyn, May 1.—(AP)—District Attorney William F. X. Googhan said today he expected to have the full story within a few weeks of how Paul H. Wendel, disbarred Trenton lawyer, was kidnaped, tortured and forced to sign a "confession" he kidnaped and killed the Lindbergh baby.

Googhan indicated he expected the Kings county grand jury would indict Sol Marcus, 23, of Trenton, N. J., as an accessory after the fact. Five men already are under indictment in the case which suddenly developed before the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, and delayed his death for three days.

Marcus, described by himself as a cigar store owner and by the police as a bookmaker, is alleged to have delivered $150 in two installments to Mrs. Janet Bleefeld, wife of Murray Bleefeld, one of the five under indictment. Bleefeld is a fugitive.

A part of this money, Trenton police said, may have been used to finance the flight of Harry Weiss, Brooklyn taxicab driver, being held in $50,000 bail "for his own preservation." Weiss was brought back from Ohio early this week and is in Raymond Street jail. Googhan said he tried to commit suicide by hanging last night, and today was wearing handcuffs to prevent another attempt.

WENDEL IS CLEARED BY GRAND JURY

Flemington, N. J., May 2.—(AP)—Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck announced today that the Hunterdon county grand jury had voted "no bill" after considering Mrs. Anna Hauptmann's charge that Paul H. Wendel was the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby.

The grand jury heard four witnesses in two hours and a half to dispose of the case through which Mrs. Hauptmann sought to prevent Bruno Hauptmann's execution for the slaying of the kidnaped child.

The jurors were dismissed by the court pending development of other matters after they had handed up one indictment, a minor charge.

Last of the witnesses to appear was Francis A. Madden, Assistant District Attorney of Kings (Brooklyn) County, N. Y., who in 29 minutes was reported to have told the grand jury how Martin Schlossman confessed that Wendel had been kidnaped and tortured into saying he was the Lindbergh kidnaper.

Cats, Rats, Worms, Wood Devoured By Chinese as Famine Grips Millions

Hwaiking, Honan Province, China, May 1.—(AP)—Frightful famine conditions brought millions of Chinese peasants today to a choice between banditry and stoical waiting for death from starvation.

In some sections of Honan and Szechwan Provinces a single handful of grain has become a great luxury for emaciated peasants whose gaunt pallor makes them resemble living skeletons.

Men and women attempting to work the wheat fields drop from hunger.

The central government's been fulfilled.

Money has become so scarce, prices of foodstuffs so high and business so bad the inhabitants have stopped trying to find work.

The frightful need of the people has caused them to strip trees of their bark and devour cats, dogs, rats and even worms. Straw, weeds and sawdust have become food stuffs to a people whose plight is described by Canadian and American missionaries as "tragic beyond belief."

Ousted Veterans' Home Head Wins Moral Victory, However, Successor Named by Welfare Director

Columbus, O., May 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Allman, state welfare director, announced today she had accepted the resignation of Perry L. Null, commandant of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Sandusky and center of a heated controversy, effective June 1.

Mrs. Allman then said Lieut. Col. John C. Volka, acting commandant, "in all probability" would be appointed head of the institution.

Resignation of Null, suspended commandant of the home, was accepted effective June 1, Mrs. Allman announced, with Null being temporarily reinstated but stripped of all authority.

"Although Mr. Null will return to his position as commandant," said Mrs. Allman, "Lieut. Col. Volka

Lots of Excitement... But That's All

Shipment of Poisonous Snakes Reported Loose in Express Car—Investigation, However, Fails to Substantiate Hysteria.

Cincinnati, O., May 1.—(AP)—A dozen railway express workers, searching cautiously, discovered three non-poisonous snakes at large in an express car today.

The reptiles, a gopher, a coach whip and a pine snake, hissed defiance from behind a wire netting protecting the car's steam pipes. Each about 7 feet long, only the pine accompanied its defiant hiss with indications of belligerence.

Joe Stephan, son of the manager of the Cincinnati Zoo, removed the snakes without difficulty and put them in crates beside two similar containers in which poisonous snakes for the Detroit Zoo were being shipped.

The snakes, shipped from Square Deal Miller, at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., escaped from their crates as the Louisville & Nashville train, the Flamingo, sped through Georgia. The car was sealed and much of the express removed in the hunt for the reptiles had to be reloaded onto south-bound trains for points between Cincinnati and Albany, Georgia.

Hours before the train was due (at 8:10 a. m.) officials had tele-

ADDIS ABABA DESERTED BUT WAR TO GO ON

King of Kings Mobilizes His Forces to Renew Attack on Italians

EMPEROR'S AIDE SHOT

Mussolini Makes Plans for Victory Celebration

Addis Ababa, May 1.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie today ordered all able-bodied citizens in the vicinity of the Ethiopian capital to march north tomorrow in an attempt to halt the advance of Italian troops.

The march to the north will be led by Ras Getachou.

The emperor recommended that his soldiers carry provisions sufficient to sustain themselves for five days.

The capital is now practically deserted except for police to whom has been delegated the task of maintaining order in the city.

General Korniloff, adviser to Ras Kassa in part of the Makale campaign, said Emperor Haile Selassie had a narrow escape from death recently at the hands of Ethiopian rebels.

He said the rebels fired into the imperial suite at Magdala killing the emperor's valet who was standing by his side, and also killing the emperor's chamberlain.

CAPTURE OF CAPITAL WON'T END WAR SAYS KING

With the fall of the Ethiopian capital expected momentarily, all Italy prepared for an "adunata" or mobilization to celebrate victory over Ethiopia.

Emperor Haile Selassie declared, however, that the fall of Addis Ababa would not mean the end of his nation's fight against the Italians.

The adunata is the second mobilization of the Fascist nation, summing almost half of Italy's 44,000,000 inhabitants to assemblages in all towns of the nation.

The previous adunata was called one day before the Fascist armies crossed into Ethiopia to begin their campaign of conquest on Oct. 3, 1935.

The latest reports from the Italian forces in Ethiopia said the northern columns under Marshal Pietro Badoglio were on the high plateau leading directly to Addis Ababa, while the southern army under Gen. Rodolfo Graziani drove toward its goal of Harar, second city of Ethiopia, after the capture of Sasa Baneh, 175 miles southeast of Harar, and of Daggah Bur, 25 miles northeast of Sasa Baneh.

Marshal Badoglio reported that the battle around Sasa Baneh was one of the bloodiest actions of the war. He said the Ethiopians lost 5,000 men while the Italians suffered 1,850 casualties.

Emperor Haile Selassie told the Associated Press after a conference with high government officials in Addis Ababa that his army was not destroyed and would continue to wage war against the Italians even after his capital was captured.

The king of kings denounced the alleged use of poison gas by the Fascist invaders.

Mrs. Gault charged that her husband, now living in Newark, failed to support her and that his cruelty had caused a state of ill health.

NULL RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY DEP'T

Welfare Director Allman Names John Volka Successor

Sandusky, O., May 1.—(P)—Oakley Spaght, assistant state welfare director, said here the welfare department had accepted the resignation of Perry L. Null, effective June 1, as commandant of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Home.

Null and his wife returned to the commandant's residence on the home grounds after a vacation trip taken after Mrs. Margaret Allman, welfare director, named Lieut. Col. John Volka acting commandant of the institution.

Volka remained in charge of the office today.

When asked whether Null would have any administrative authority between now and June 1, Spaght replied that Mrs. Allman alone could answer the question.

Tax Bill Not O. K.: Believed Unconstitutional in Some Sections; Senate to Rewrite

By LESLIE EICHEL

The tax bill will be rewritten by the senate because many sections are believed to be unconstitutional. Furthermore, the bill is so complicated that no one knows whether it will take in as much as present laws or more. It must take in nearly a billion more to be of any use.

NO INFLATION?

Crashing security prices and declining commodity prices seem to indicate that fear (or hope) of inflation has passed. That is not quite the case. A huge debt is in itself a form of inflation. At present, however, capital is frightened by the prospect of punitive taxes. It is frightened, too, by the ease that "Left" governments come into power—as in France.

IN 1940?

There are many persons who believe that a Farmer-Labor coalition will win power in the United States in 1940—due to a failure of both Democratic and Republican parties to bring about fundamental economic improvements.

It must be remembered, observers point out, that it is not only the city unemployed, but the farm unemployed who are a problem. The United States has become largely a nation of absentee farm ownership. Wherever that has occurred in the past, through the centuries, there has been a serious breakup.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Four years hence, also, our social security measures may be considered a failure. Few states have complied with the federal regulations, in order to participate. State legislatures are governed largely by forces opposed to social security.

Proponents of the present measure assert that this opposition now may result in "drastic" measures later—against which this one will seem weak and watery.

STUDEBAKER'S BOOK

Editors have been supplied for review a book written by John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education. This small volume, published by the National Home Library association, is titled "Plain Talk."

In it, Dr. Studebaker asserts: "Today, democracy stands more than ever in a great shadow. In the midst of chaos and the complexities of a machine age, the people of many lands have forfeited the privileges of democracy for the paternalism of dictatorship. A wave of despotism sweeps over the world in this hour of crisis. We are testing whether this or any democracy can solve the problems forced upon it. To us falls the historic mission of making democracy work. . . .

"Let those who want to establish an intellectual paternalism to protect the people from what is considered dangerous doctrine advocate such control, not in the name of democracy, but as part and parcel of a fascist program. Those devoted to democracy will resist such paternalism and intellectual strait-jacketing. . . .

"If our (educational) profession believes in democracy, it must do its part in safeguarding our schools from the beginnings of dictatorship. To me, that means vigorous and united effort on the part of teachers and patriotic American citizens, not only to thwart specific threats to academic freedom, but to improve our education so that we may more adequately and competently meet the heavy demands which democracy makes upon its citizens for intelligent action."

CREDITORS

Depositors in closed banks, stockholders in both sound and bankrupt companies, are beginning to fight for publicity. These creditors have been treated as disloyal outcasts. Yet it has been their money which the officers have used and with which they have paid themselves handsomely and made deals.

Both the law and regulations (such as stock exchange regulations) have militated against the investor-creditor. Insiders have obtained all the "gravy"—and still do. The chief revolt at present is within Wall Street itself. The condition has been frightening money away. Thus, investment leaders are fighting to bring about publicity—and confidence.

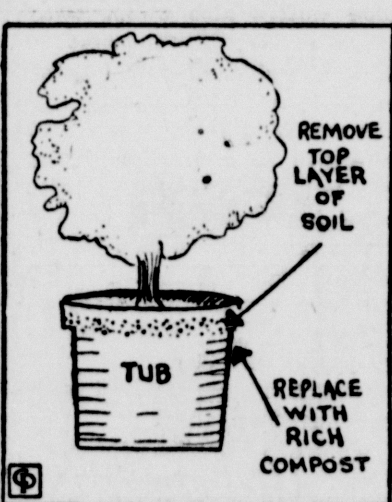

ANTI-SOCIAL MILLIONS

Some stockholders also are questioning the right of "their corporations" to wage anti-social fights to the extent of millions (of stockholders' money.)

Disclosure before the senate lobby committee that large corporations had paid $8 million dollars a year to detective agencies to spy on workers and to crush labor organizations has brought on an incipient storm.

Beauty treatment for tubbed plants

By DEAN HALLIDAY

TUBBED PLANTS, such as Hydrangea, Bay Tree and Blue Lily-of-the-Nile, should be retubbed only when absolutely necessary. A helpful beauty treatment at this time of the year is to remove the top layer of soil and replace with a fresh layer of rich soil or compost, as shown in Fig. 1. This will invigorate the plant for another year.

The Lily-of-the-Nile should be watered freely during growing period. It also responds vigorously to feeding of liquid manure. After the plant flowers gradually withhold watering.

The Hydrangea should be cut back severely in May. Let the plant spend its summer vacation in the garden. Sink the tub into the soil up to the rim. Water faithfully during dry periods. Feed it manure water for better, larger flower heads.

Keaton, who resides near Bainbridge, was taken into custody by federal officers for operating a 75 gallon still in Perry township, Pike county, just over the Ross county line.

With him were John James Keaton, 15, and James Johnson, 15, who also were taken into custody, and are being held in the Ross

In addition to the still the officers found 8 gallons of liquor and 300 gallons of mash.

OHIO INDUSTRY SWINGS UPWARD

Sharp Recovery Is Made from March Slump, Survey Shows

Cleveland, May 1.—(P)—Industry in the Fourth Federal Reserve district recovered sharply from the early March slump "and in several lines the pace quickened materially in the first three weeks of April," the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland said today in its monthly report of business conditions.

"This was particularly true of the important industries in the district," chiefly iron and steel, the report said. "Operations in the third week of April were above 70 per cent of capacity as a national average. A decline of one point occurred in the closing week of the month."

The report said automobile parts production increased in late March but has shown little change since that time.

"Building contracts awarded in this district in March compared more favorably with last year than the average for the entire country," the bank reported. The increase was cited as 92 per cent.

"Coal production in March was 24 per cent behind last year, having been retarded by floods. In April some improvement was evident.

"Shoe and clothing factories had about completed work on spring and summer lines," and have declined seasonally. "Tire production has shown an upward trend in recent weeks but this was modified by the weather which retarded replacement tire purchases.

"Retail trade in sections not affected by floods or strikes was greater in March than a year ago. Department store sales in these centers were up about 12 per cent and further improvement was reported for the first three weeks of April."

Employment gains were reported in March over last year in all principal cities except Toledo. Cleveland's rise over a year ago was eight percent; at Cincinnati, 13.6 per cent, and Canton and Dayton, five per cent. A gain also was cited at Springfield

Devil's Island Culprit Freed By Can-Opener

Chalons-sur-Marne, France (P)—Distinction for an unusual jail-break belongs to 28-year-old Marcel Henry.

He pried his way out of a swiftly moving "Black Maria" with a can-opener.

The police van was transporting Henry and 15 other liars to the Metz penitentiary, pending their eventual shipment to Devil's Island. Shacked hand and foot in heavy chains, Henry performed a miracle in ripping out the window grill with the canopener.

Chains and all, he squeezed his body through the narrow aperture and tumbled out to freedom on the roadside.

All the police found in Henry's compartment when the van entered Metz was the canopener.

Conner came into prominence when he advocated and had enacted the Mississippi sales tax.

Jigsaw Puzzle

Conner's announcement of his candidacy, long predicted, split the Mississippi political picture into a jigsaw puzzle.

The question is: "Which way will Junior Senator Theodore Bilbo go?"

Bilbo who, during his own senatorial campaign promised to "out-Huey-Huey Long" has been opposed to both Conner and Harrison for years. Of the two, however, he is more bitter against his colleague, Harrison, and has sworn to bring about his defeat.

His political fight with Harrison, which dates back many years, was even further accentuated in the United States senate recently when Harrison supported the nomination of Judge Edwin R. Holmes to the federal circuit bench.

Bilbo, still vividly remembering the time when Judge Holmes put him into jail for contempt, began a bitter fight against the senate confirmation of the jurist.

More Puzzles

Harrison, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee, has continued to put up a stiff fight for Holmes.

There is also the question of what part the late Senator Long's "share-the-wealth" movement will take in the campaign.

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, who has fallen into the role of guiding director of the movement, has declared that his societies would oppose Harrison.

And again Senator Bilbo creates wonderment, for Bilbo in his own election campaign assailed the "share-the-wealth" movement.

There is, further, a possibility that the New Deal may find its way into the campaign as one of the chief issues.

Harrison's Plea

Senator Harrison, in addressing a joint session of the state legislature, urged that Mississippi send a delegation to the Philadelphia convention instructed to vote for Roosevelt.

The puzzle also enmeshes Gov. Hugh White. White, who was so vigorously supported by Bilbo in the campaign last year, has been regarded as a friend of Harrison's.

All in all the picture is one of many complexities with only the future able to truly predict the ultimate position all the various and conflicting parts of the puzzle will take.

Senator Harrison, who has been an outstanding figure in the nation's capital for many years, was first elected to the United States senate in 1918. The present campaign will be his fourth.

This and the earlier operetta both reflected a great deal of credit on Miss Wilson's capable leadership.

The operetta was "Bits of Blarney," a delightful Irish story with a chorus of well-balanced voices and a well-chosen cast.

Miss Ruth Newland, as heroine, displayed a lovely soprano voice and made a charming appearance. Maynard Wilson, the hero, has a splendid high baritone voice and did some very clever acting. Carey Parrett was another of the cast with a promising baritone voice, and Gene Matthews is a talented young tenor who brought out a big hand with his Irish brogue.

The glee clubs and orchestra members presented Miss Wilson with a lovely gift in appreciation of her efforts, Miss Newland mak-

CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES SHUNTED ASIDE AS METHODIST CONFERENCE OPENS IN COLUMBUS

Unification Question is to Be Settled Before Meeting Ends, However

By HAROLD K. MILKS
Columbus, O., May 1.—(AP)—Communion services opened today a 22-day meeting of the 32nd quadrennial conference of the Methodist Church.

Disputes over social and economic questions were shunted aside temporarily as Bishop John L. Nulsen of Zurich, Switzerland, senior bishop of the church, swung his gavel calling the conference into session.

Organization of standing committees followed the communion services, conducted by Bishop Nulsen, Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of Washington and Bishop H. Lester Smith of Cincinnati.

In an opening prayer, William

F. McDowell of Washington, retired, dean of Methodist Church bishops, said the conference was not interested so much in the prosperity of the world, as the righteousness of the world.

Before its adjournment sometime prior to May 23, the conference must settle the question of church unification and the adoption of demands for an expression on social and economic matters made by liberal leaders.

Veteran church leaders predicted, however, that the first debate on the conference floor would come on selection of the judicial commission, the Supreme Court of the conference.

A Southern California laymen's committee injected new spirit into the liberal-conservative battle within the church by the presentation of a memorial demanding that preachers concern themselves more with the personal and spiritual aspects of the Gospel, and less with its social aspects.

The California group also asked the conference to erase the strain of "Methodist Reds" from any part of the church with a declaration that the church was "unequivocally opposed to communism, Fascism, and Nazism, or any form of controlled economy that would destroy the rights and liberties of our people guaranteed them by the constitution."

Their demands were seen as a direct blow at the program of the Methodist Federation for social service, which asked the church conference to approve substitution of "social ownership" for the profit-seeking economic system.

CONSTIPATION* MAY LOWER RESISTANCE TO GERMS

Can Be Corrected by Natural Laxative Food

Common constipation is due largely to insufficient "bulk" in meals. It is a condition that should never be treated casually.

Long neglected, it may contribute to a general run-down condition. Your body lacks the strength it needs to fight off infection. You are much more likely to pick up a serious illness.

Guard against common constipation. Make sure the meals you eat contain plenty of "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a generous source of effective "bulk."

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently cleanses the system. This delicious cereal also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN in some form each day, either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.

Guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SPEED-DEMON CONGRESSMAN THREATENED WITH ARREST IF HE RETURNS TO ALEXANDRIA

Representative and Mrs. Zioncheck

After leading reporters and photographers a merry chase, Representative Marion A. Zioncheck (D.) of Washington, pauses on a street in the nation's capital to kiss his bride prior to making an official statement to the press concerning his marriage. Mrs. Zioncheck is the former Ruby Louise Nix of Texarkana, Tex., a PWA stenographer.

Nabbed Going Through Town 60 Miles an Hour and Fined $66, But Forfeits $200 Bond to Continue Honeymoon.

Alexandria Va., May 1.—(AP)—Failing to appear in court, Representative Marion Zioncheck of Washington State was fined a total of $66 for reckless driving and speeding today and a $200 bond was forfeited.

Judge James R. Duncan added that if the stormy House member ever was seen in Alexandria again he would be arrested. Zioncheck was believed to be speeding today toward a Florida honeymoon.

The representative's attorney, Maurice Rosenberg, member of the Virginia legislature, pleaded in vain that Zioncheck's case be postponed until next Friday.

Policeman George Ellmore told how he arrested the representative yesterday afternoon as he traveled through Alexandria with his bride of three days.

"He was going 60 miles an hour," Ellmore said, "when I finally stopped him. He saw me following him and later told me he was trying to get away from me."

Ellmore said that when the congressman finally stopped his big roadster he said:

"When are you damn cops going to leave me alone?"

MONSTER CAKE WEIGHS 125 LBS.

Craig's Birthday Cake Draws Attention

The monster birthday cake now on display in Craig Brothers window, which is a feature of Craig Brothers 62nd anniversary weighs 125 pounds, contains 240 eggs and other ingredients in proportion.

Many, looking at the big cake, question as to whether it is a real cake. It is.

It was turned out by the Fouch bakery, where Wm. Fouch and Earl Perrone worked for hours in mixing, baking and decorating the big fellow. Here is a list of the ingredients used:

46 pounds sugar.
10 pounds butter.
20 pounds flour.
240 eggs.
1½ gal. milk.
8 oz Vanilla.
8 oz salt.
12 oz baking powder.

The completed cake weighs just 125 pounds and is 22 inches high and 90 inches around the base. 75 hand made rose buds and 200 violets decorate the frosting to carry out the color scheme used during the Anniversary celebration and the completed cake is a sight worth seeing.

It is announced that the cake will be cut Tuesday afternoon at the store and generous slices given out to all who visit the Anniversary celebration at that time. The bakers estimate that 1500 slices can be served from the cake and that the ingredients used would have made 150 regular size cakes.

The recipe used is the same as for Fouch's butter cake.

STILL SEEKING HOG RUSTLERS

Officers of several counties, including this county, are still looking for the thieves who hauled away three heavy Hampshire sows and 30 Hampshire shoats weighing 30 to 40 pounds, from the Levi Smith farm in the corner of Greene, Clark and Madison counties, a few nights ago.

According to Smith, a former well known resident of Jefferson township, who was in this city a day or two ago, the hogs were hauled away in a Ford car, and put a truck, and the officers are now seeking thieves who know how to load heavy hogs into automobiles.

MARK LAUNDRY

THE BIRTH OF AN ORACLE

One day, many centuries ago, a Greek goatherd was sitting in a shady and comfortable spot watching his animals while they cropped at bits of dwarfed stubble. All at once, he noticed them acting strangely, walking unsurely, and even seeming to reel in their gait. Frightened and astonished, he jumped to his feet and ran until he came up with them. When he reached them, he was seized by a peculiar light-headedness.

The goatherd hurried home to tell his friends about what had happened. The next day they accompanied him to the scene of his experience, where they, too, grew giddy, and very soon began acting like men intoxicated.

Almost overnight the spot became holy, and the oracle of Delphi—destined to determine Greek state policy and stratagem of war for centuries—was born. That was over twenty-five hundred years ago.

Today, we know that there was nothing supernatural about the oracle of Delphi—that nothing more than an emanation of surface gas was responsible for the giddiness, strange actions, and mysterious sayings of the people who visited there and the priestesses who presided over it.

Although it is no longer looked on in the light of the supernatural, Gas, in the modern sense of Gas Heating Comfort, ranks well among the wonders of present day science. Pioneering research and hundreds of discoveries have made Gas into the finest form of househeating known. Piped from vast reservoirs, it now provides uniform, measured warmth throughout the winter months without the least need for care or attention. Clean, silent, automatic, it has freed the modern home from all the old-fashioned drudgery of furnace tending, cooking and water heating.

THE DAYTON POWER & LIGHT CO.

C. J. GILMAN—Mgr. Washington District.

ATTRACTING widespread interest and eliciting a host of best wishes is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Pauline Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Jerome Taylor and Mr. A. Newton Taylor, Prosecuting Attorney of Fayette County and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Browning. The wedding took place on Saturday, April eighteenth, in Lexington, Ky. Reverend Frederick E. Ross, formerly of this city, performing the ceremony shortly before 8:00 p. m. at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Ross and daughter, Miss Evelyn, were the only witnesses.

The announcement was made Thursday evening at a party entertained by Mrs. J. Willard Keenan and came as a complete surprise at the climax of the evening. Mrs. Keenan complimented the members of the Thursday afternoon assert-bridge club, at which she is substituted frequently, with an evening party and included a few additional guests with the unsuspecting club members.

At the close of the evening's bridge game, a high score prize is awarded to Mrs. Hiram J. Hitchcock and a travelling prize, which included the marriage certificate and revealed the announcement, presented to Miss Jane Durrett. Mrs. Browning, who wore for the party the extremely attractive dress which she was married, was showered with good wishes. The bride, smartly tailored of navy blue tulle with accented pleated collar and cuffs of pale pink chiffon, is fast becoming to the pretty dark-haired bride.

Mrs. Keenan served a delicious collation and appointed the small tables attractively with bouquets of spring flowers. Mrs. Browning's gift from the hostess was a beautiful set of Postoria glass dishes.

Guests for the announcement party were Mrs. Forrest M. Ellis, Mrs. Hiram J. Hitchcock, Mrs. Ralph V. Taylor, Mrs. John F. Browning, Mrs. Albert Briggs, Miss Anne Durant and Mrs. Thomas DeWees.

The wedding was made a quiet affair and not immediately announced due to the serious illness of the bride's mother.

Mrs. Browning was graduated from Washington High School in

With the coming of spring weather and the growing beauty of the country club grounds, interest grows apace in social activities and forty women were out for Thursday's luncheon-bridge. A trio of adept hostesses, Mrs. Elmer A. Klever, Mrs. Edgar Coll and Mrs. Charles McLean, arranged and carried out to perfection an exceptionally beautiful and delightful party.

Not only spring garden flowers but a profusion of choice florist blooms, snapdragons, roses and sweetpeas, were in exquisite arrangement. A basket of unusually large snapdragons in pinks, yellows and creams, was outstanding and also a basket of jonquils.

For the serving each table was centered with a lovely watergarden of roses, snapdragons and greenery. The one large table was centered with an immense bowl of sweetpeas in pinks and orchids, flanked by tall pink candles.

Mrs. Devins, club hostess, served her usual tempting luncheon, followed by a gay afternoon of progressive contract bridge. The high score prizes were won by Miss Florence Ustick and Mrs. Sam Parrett. They were very attractive and in lovely wrappings of pink and orchid, with coat flowers of the same colors, tied in the top bows of ribbon.

Mrs. Sidney Carss, of Orilla, Canada, the guest of Mrs. Wert Shoop, was an attractive out of town guest. In her honor Mrs. Shoop brought out a group of friends of Mrs. Carss' college association at the Ontario Ladies' College.

For the first time since it was organized more than twenty years ago the City Federation of Women's Clubs is without a home, and Mrs. Max G. Dice, new president of the Federation, and her committee are now endeavoring to locate a suitable room for the various clubs in the city federation.

Thursday all of the furniture and equipment of the federation was moved from the room in the Stinson annex of the Y.M.C.A. and placed in storage until new quarters can be located. The furniture was moved upon order of the new owners of the Y.M.C.A. building, who are converting the building into a hotel.

During the past several years many protests have been made by the Federated clubs against promiscuous use of the club room by other organizations, to whom it was leased by the "Y" management, the protests being due to the fact that all equipment in the club room was owned by the federation or individual clubs, and that some of the furniture was damaged by others than those included in the federation group.

Mrs. Robert S. Carman (Dorothy Crone) who has been the guest of honor at a number of lovely parties since her marriage Easter, was complimented with a delightful evening bridge entertained Thursday evening by Miss Jane Pearce at her home in Chillicothe.

Mrs. Carman motored down with Misses Lois and Helen Crone, Miss Lorane Kruse, Miss Carrie Beth Maddox, Miss Claribel Worrell, Miss Mary Grace Snyder, Miss Betty Cook, Miss Dorothy Jane Malow, Miss Virginia Sollars, Miss Eula Mae Landon, Miss Peggy Devins, Miss Mary Jo Williams, Miss Mary Chapman and Miss Mary Lou Plymire. The party was joined in Chillicothe by Miss Eldora Rees.

The bridge game progressed gaily throughout the evening and at its close the hostess presented a favor for high score to Miss Worrell. Mrs. Carman was presented with a beautiful crystal pitcher with matching tea and water glasses.

The small tables were centered with vases of pastel sweetpeas for the serving of a tempting collation. Mrs. Herbert Pearce assisted her daughter in the entertaining.

The Maple Grove Ladies Aid Society was entertained at the home of Mrs. Flossie Hill in Frankfort for the regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon. With a good attendance of members and friends present. Mrs. Bessie Garrison as devotional leader opened the meeting with song, prayer and scripture reading.

In the absence of the president, the vice president had charge of the business session.

During social hour refreshments were served by the hostess. The society adjourned to meet at the home of Miss Minta Rowland in May, at which time the annual election of officers will be held.

Miss Madge Dawson went to her home in Clarksburg Friday evening for a visit over the week end.

The annual open spring meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs, was held Thursday afternoon, at the First Baptist church, with Mrs. Minnie L. Browne, president, in charge.

The secretary, Mrs. B. E. Kelley, gave her report and in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman, her report was read by Mrs. Browne.

The annual election of officers placed in office Mrs. Max G. Dice, president; Mrs. J. J. Kelley, vice president; Mrs. B. E. Kelley, secretary; Mrs. Harry Sprenger, treasurer.

Mrs. Browne closed the year's business and the incoming president, Mrs. Dice, took charge for the discussion of new business. A most important problem is the obtaining of a new club room, since the change in operation at the "Y" building deprives them of the room occupied for many years.

The executive committee including with the officers, the heads of the Federated clubs, Mrs. S. A. Dewey, Browning Club; Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Cecilians; Mrs. J. M. Harsha, Mother's Circle; Mrs. J. A. Van Gundy, W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Norman L. McLean entertained a delightful session of her bridge club Thursday evening and included several additional guests. Spring flowers were the motif of the entire party, with narcissus and tulips decorating the living room and the tallies and score pads dainty hand-painted flowers.

Mrs. Harry Hollister and Mrs. Robert Dunton won the club favors for high scores and Mrs. Ormond Dewey, the guest favor.

A pink and yellow color scheme was carried out in the candles lighting the small tables and in the collation.

Guests with the club were Mrs. Alfred H. Smith, of Chicago, Mrs. John B. Hill, Mrs. N. M. Reiff, Mrs. Clyde Haager, Mrs. Ormond Dewey and Mrs. Henry Brownell, Jr. Mrs. Walter L. O'Brien is a new member of the club.

The Priscilla Bible class of the Church of Christ was entertained for the monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louella Robinette. Miss Carrie Anschutz conducted the business session and Mrs. Corda Toops had the devotionals.

A contest with the Loyal Men's class was planned. A short program was enjoyed during the social hour. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Priscilla, in serving dainty refreshments.

The Sugar Grove Ladies Aid Society met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. O. O. Garinger. Mrs. Garinger was assisted in the hospitable entertaining by her granddaughter, Miss Kitty Arambust.

Mrs. Charles Hoppes was in charge of the business session and Mrs. Eldon Bethard arranged the program of readings and contests. The hostesses served tempting refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mr. W. M. Fryman proved a popular host for the fortnightly men's supper at the Washington Country Club, Thursday night. An unusual number of men were out and Mrs. Devins, club hostess, served an appetizing roast beef supper.

The usual evening of cards followed the supper hour.

Miss Betty Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson entertained several friends after the Operetta at Bloomingburg Thursday night at her beautiful country home on the 3 Cs. Dancing was enjoyed to radio music.

The pretty young hostess served light refreshments. She was assisted by her brothers.

Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Braden had as their guests, Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGlade, of Balboa, Canal Zone, Panama, who were en route to the University of Illinois at Urbana. Mr. and Mrs. McGlade's daughter, Miss Charlotte, will be graduated from the University in June. CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION RECOMMENDED TO WOMEN

Cincinnati, O., May 1.—(AP)—Two speakers asserted changes were needed in the U. S. constitution in addresses to the 12th convention of the National League of Women Voters today. A professor also recommended requiring a vote of seven Supreme Court Justices to invalidate an act of congress.

C. A. Dykstra, Cincinnati City Manager, said: "In numerous areas of human activity, the laws of our states conflict, their practices diverge, and their policies are antagonistic. It is time to recognize the fact that such chaos can not continue."

Karl N. Llewellyn, a law professor at Columbia University, said "Federal power has been expanding, and must expand, because we need it to fill a void."

Making his recommendation to require a seven-vote majority in the Supreme Court to invalidate acts of congress, Llewellyn said: "We do now need national power to deal with national problems. Nothing must stand in the way of that. But the Supreme Court could be largely removed from the road, and its values be yet preserved, by such a simple measure x x x."

CRAIG BROS. DINNER MARKS OPENING OF ANNIVERSARY SALE

Held Tuesday as Another of Firm's Annual Events

The sixty-second annual anniversary dinner, the forerunner of The Craig Bros. Co. annual anniversary sale, opening May first, held at the Cherry Hotel Thursday evening at 6:45, rivaled its predecessors in brilliancy and beauty and was undoubtedly the most successful of many similar affairs entertained by The Craig Bros. Co.

Forty members of the store connection were seated in the hotel's large private dining room for the serving of a three course dinner of spring delicacies and appetizing viands, perfectly prepared and served.

The soft green mural walls made an effective background for the tables, artistically decorated in spring colors. One long table was centered with an immense brass bowl, filled with roses, snapdragons and greenery, and lighted by yellow candles. The same flowers centered the small tables and the entire scene was one of colorful beauty.

The dinner hour, of convivial gaiety, was followed by an hour of speaking and introducing the special features of interest in connection with the sale. Mr. Harold Craig was a clever toastmaster, interspersing talks with witty stories and apropos hits. Mr. Thomas H. Craig, senior member of the firm, and Mr. David S. Craig made happy short talks, relative to the anniversary occasion, and reminiscing from the time of the early organization to the present. Mr. Thomas Craig especially emphasized the purpose of the store, both its management and congenial "store family."

It was their combined wish to give cordial welcome, to provide patrons with whatever desired and also provide for their comfort in every way.

The toastmaster called upon each department to present the specials to be in the anniversary sale. The responses were original and highly entertaining, bringing out many a laugh.

Mrs. Clarence E. Craig was in charge of the successful arrangement.

It is one of the best and most entertaining photoplays of the season, Friday night its last showing. Besides the flowers the theater manager gave a free ticket with the sale of every eight tickets.

UNCLE SAM SECOND TO RUSSIA AS WORLD'S BIGGEST LANDLORD

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington (P)—The government's gigantic land-purchasing program has made Uncle Sam the biggest landlord in the world with the sole exception of Soviet Russia where all property is owned by the state.

The government has bought more than 23,000,000 acres for $116,627,198 in two years—an aggregate territory larger than the state of Maine and representing the greatest amount of land purchased by any government in modern history.

Biggest purchasing agent is the forestry service, which has bought about 10,500,000 acres since the beginning of the Roosevelt administration. Close second is the Resettlement Administration, which has accepted options on 8,000,000 acres and has a program calling for the purchase of 9,000,000 acres.

The office of Indian affairs and the national park service—through gifts from states—likewise have acquired considerable land.

In addition to these acquisitions, Uncle Sam has become the owner of some 27,000 farms by foreclosure of mortgages held by the federal land banks and has obtained control of several thousand farms through the controller's office taking over assets of liquidated private banks.

The government has acquired land in the last three years in every state. The 206 resettlement administration projects alone embrace all the states except Massachusetts, New Jersey, Arizona and Nevada. Biological survey purchases for wild life sanctuaries have been made in 26 states.

The most land being acquired by the Resettlement administration—some 7,500,000 acres—is classified as unprofitable for cultivation. It is to be utilized for such public purposes as forests, parks, improved grazing range and wild life sanctuaries.

About 1,305,000 acres will be used in the Indian rehabilitation program, 730,000 acres will be utilized as migratory water fowl refuges and 435,000 acres will become recreation projects.

Dr. Louis C. Gray, assistant administrator of resettlement, says that about 22,000 families live in the 9,000,000 acres being bought by agency and nearly 12,000 of these families will require financial aid for relocation.

Politics at Random

Springfield, Ill., May 1.—(P)—Illinois Democrats today declared Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, a member of the party and arranged for him to attend the National convention in Philadelphia as a state delegate.

Princeton, N. J., May 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt in a message to the Whig-Clasp societies of Princeton University described America as "a nation of free men and free debate" while his one-time advisor, Raymond Moley, told the same gathering last night that the national administration was "touchy" about criticism.

The President's message, read at the annual meeting of the campus debating organizations, declared "it is through our system of free debate that men and women may decide in which program lies the greatest promise for life and work, for self-respect and usefulness."

The message said "whatever conditions abroad may be we remain in America a nation of free men and free debate. Our choice of men and measures is based upon our own violation."

Moley said the present need is for "an active and aggressive criticism of the New Deal which can be best gotten through the press."

Jonett Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, urged opposition to any constitutional amendment departing from "original purposes and ideals" of the document.

Cleveland, O., May 1.—(P)—Congressman Stephen M. Young hurled a series of questions concerning contributions at Gov. Martin L. Davey and State Democratic Chairman Francis Poulson last night in a speech at Metal Trades Temple.

Young and Davey are candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"When business firms dealing with the state are compelled to pay tribute, taxpayers indirectly pay added costs," Young said.

"Who is state business transacted there?"

"Who authorized Poulson to be collector of a huge slush fund?"

"Why must concerns selling to the state make a connection with Poulson?"

"Why this shakedown for contributions by Poulson?"

"Does my opponent claim ignorance of racketeering methods which so many Democrats deplore and seek to end?"

"Where did Poulson obtain the $4,000 in currency found on his person when he unfortunately had an automobile accident near Akron?"

"What has my opponent to say of the enormous slush fund brutally raised to promote his political ambitions?"

Young reiterated his promise to "put an end to the sales tax" and said he would not "wage a political campaign at the expense of the taxpayers."

He promised investigations of both the State Highway and Liquor departments.

Columbus, O., May 1.—(P)—Senator William E. Borah hammered at the Ohio Republican "Favorite Son" plan last night in an address and attacked "Monopolistic Interests."

The Idaho senator, combating the regular Republican organization for a delegation pledged to his own presidential candidacy, said "I certainly would not trust my candidacy to the tender mercies of the organization in the state of Ohio."

He asserted Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, the "Favorite Son" candidate, was "not in any sense a candidate for president."

"The great name of Taft is found in very bad company," orah continued.

"Of course Walter Brown (former postmaster general and a 'favorite son' candidate for delegate-at-large) and Ed Schorr, (state party chairman) are just the men to lead the Republican party back to power. 'They've led it so near destruction that it's about the time for them to turn around. And, in my opinion, next Tuesday a week, they will turn around.'"

Senator Borah said oil companies and "other monopolies" were his chief opponents "and might succeed in defeating him."

Columbus, O., May 1.—(P)—The Republican National committee chairman advised Borah-top-Republican supporters today it had no jurisdiction over the Ohio Republican organization's share of campaign funds.

Willard Miller, chairman of a Columbus Borah club, charged yesterday that the state organization was using funds intended for the fall campaign to the detriment of Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho, candidate for the presidential nomination.

Boston, May 1.—(P)—Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota Republican, said today that unless the Republicans develop "a more complete liberalism it would hardly be progressive to do other than hope for the re-election of President Roosevelt."

He discussed his party's presidential possibilities in an interview prior to addressing a May Day gathering on Boston Common.

He said he hoped Senator William E. Borah of Idaho might be the Republican choice for presidential nominee, and added if Borah won the nomination he would "be with the Republican candidate."

4 JEWELRY STORES ROBBED IN OHIO

Chicago, May 1.—(P)—Police Capt. John Stege quoted Alfred Brady, 26, Indiana gunman, today as saying he and members of his gang participated in four jewelry store holdups in Ohio in the last month.

After each raid, Stege said, the gang hid out in Chicago. Stege said about $1,500 worth of loot had been recovered in a cache here disclosed to him by Brady.

Police said they probably would turn over to federal authorities for prosecution under the Dyer act the others taken here. They included Jack Becker, 31, Chicago, whom police said Brady named as having disposed of jewelry stolen by the gang; his wife, Laura, 21; William Giftman, 26, a jewelry salesman; his wife, Anna, and a woman who claimed she was Brady's common-law wife.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

By VICTOR EUBANK

New York, May 1.—(P)—Strength of scattered speculations, a number of which extended their recoveries of Thursday by 1 to 3 points, helped to bolster today's stock market.

It was far from a one-way move, however, as American Telephone again turned heavy, dropping more than 3 and Douglas Aircraft was off 2 at the approach of the fourth hour.

Sonspiciuous on the upside were Columbia Carbon, Allied Chemical, Case, Deere, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, American Smelting and Continental Can. Among losers of fractions to a point were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Consolidated Edison, North American, N. Y. Central and Northern Pacific.

Wheat pointed lower on reports of rain in the drought districts and other commodities were mixed. Foreign currencies were narrowly irregular, as were bonds.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Chicago, May 1.—(P)—Good rains over parts of domestic winter wheat territory, together with disappointing action of the Liverpool market, did much today to pull wheat prices down.

Wheat closed weak, 3/4 @ 1 1/2c under yesterday's finish. May, 97 1/2 @ 98, July, 86 1/4 @ 87; corn 1/4 @ 1/2c down, May, 63 1/4; oats 1/4 @ 1/2c up, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 22 cents.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY CAMPAIGN TO REACH PEAK HERE WEDNESDAY VENING WITH OPEN MEETING

Head of State Welfare Department, Which Has Taken Big Share of Public Spotlight, to Be One of Two Principal Speakers

The Democratic Primary campaign is to reach its peak next Wednesday night with a rally, open to the public, at Memorial Hall, according to an announcement by Mrs. Walter Ellis, chairman of the Democratic Women Club which is taken the role of hostess and sponsor.

Just what is the purpose of the meeting, Mrs. Ellis did not say, at the draft of the program indicates it was designed merely to stimulate the interest of Fayette county in county, state and national political affairs.

Mrs. Margaret Allman, head of the state's Welfare Department, which has occupied its share of the public spotlight intermittently for the past two years, is scheduled to make one of the two principal addresses of the evening.

Efforts are being made, the chairman said, to get William Pickrel, Dayton attorney and one of the candidates for the gubernatorial nomination won by Davey the last primary, for the other speaker but up to noon Friday the assignment was still uncertain.

Mrs. Allman's discussion of the state's welfare institutions "should be one of the most interesting that could be arranged," Mrs. Ellis said as she pointed out that the department which she heads is one of the most far-reaching in the state.

Inasmuch as the renomination of President Roosevelt by the Democrats is a foregone conclusion, interest in the party's primary centers on the selection of candidates for state and county offices.

Gov. Davey is opposed by Congressman Stephen M. Young, but renomination of the governor is generally conceded by most observers. And, while the two have not been resting on their political oars it is considered unlikely the gubernatorial campaign maneuvers will take more than a minimum of the time at the rally here.

The general impression is that the Wednesday night program will be devoted to comprehensive discussion of the state administration's acts and policies irrespective of politics unless it be with an eye to the Autumn election.

Inasmuch as the party, especially here in the county, has been free from internal friction under the guidance of the county committee chairman, Hon. Frank Grubbs (of the Central committee) and Thurman Sholey (of the Executive committee) intra-party controversial issues are expected to be avoided.

All of the candidates for nominations for county offices are to be introduced, Mrs. Ellis said, but none is to be given the floor for speaking.

In announcing the rally, the chairman stressed the fact that "it is an open meeting...everyone will be welcome."

Held in Wendel Case

Quizzed by police following his return to New York from Youngstown, O., where he was arrested, Harry Weiss, Brooklyn cab driver, allegedly admitted his part in the abduction and torture of Paul H. Meanwhile police sought to trap Ellis Parker, Jr., son of the New Jersey detective, hunted as the "master mind" behind the Wendel abduction.

ASKS $7,000 FOR SERVICES

Administrator Is Made Defendant

Mary C. Dixon and John M. Dixon, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court, Friday, make Abram H. Taylor, as administrator of the estate of Mary C. Wilson, and numerous other persons defendant in asking judgment for $7,000 for services rendered to Mary C. Wilson.

Plaintiffs, represented by Martin L. Bigger, declare that on April 30, 1929, Mary C. Wilson entered into a contract with Mary C. Dixon, a niece, to take her into her home and care for her until death, and in payment would give, at her death, all of her property and cancel a note executed by plaintiffs to Mary C. Dixon, for $4,000, which note was given to Mary C. Wilson, it is stated, when she paid $4,000 of $5,000 for property which plaintiff claim Mary C. Wilson induced them to buy, and upon which she paid $1,000.

It was understood, and agreed, according to petition, that Mary C. Wilson would cancel the note and would make no effort to collect it.

Plaintiffs assert that on June 30, 1931 Abram H. Taylor and Wesley Wilson induced Mary C. Wilson to violate her agreement and leave plaintiff's home, and that she immediately took judgment on the $4,000 note in Franklin county.

Plaintiff Mary C. Dixon declares she fulfilled her contract and that her services were worth $7,000, the value of the property of Mary C. Wilson, for which she asks judgment, and asks that she be given a set-off on the $4,000 judgment taken on the cognovit note.

Also that restrain orders be issued in connection with the $4,000 judgment, and against defendants who claim an interest in the estate.

ALGERIA'S "HITLER" MENACES FRENCH RULE OVER TWELVE MILLION IN NORTHERN AFRICA

Dr. Ben Djelloul, the "Hitler of Algeria"

By MAX LEKUS
New York — Throughout the French colonies in North Africa with their Islamic population of 12,000,000, unrest is spread again. A few days ago Premier Albert Sarraut summoned to Paris the Colonial Council to deal with the emergency situation arising out of the North African native movement.

For the Islamic world is seething from Euphrat on to the Straits of Gibraltar, nationalist demonstrators may be seen marching behind the banner of the prophet, the rising silver moon. The recent outbreaks in Syria and Egypt were, of course, but chapters in this surging wave of Pan-Islamism.

Strangely, these native demonstrators marching the streets of French ruled Tunis, Algeria and Morocco may be heard uttering the frequent cry: "Vive l'Hitler!" (Long live Hitler!).

A Semite "Hitler"

The leader they are cheering, is not Adolf Hitler of Nazi Germany, but one of their fellow countrymen, a semite by blood. Yet, due to his anti-French policy which tallies with that of the Nazi dictator, he has been duped the "Hitler of Algeria."

The stockily built, short swarthy man of about 35 whose words are eagerly acclaimed by the native North Africans, is Dr. Ben Djelloul of Constantine, a city in Algeria. To judge by the phenomenal rise of this Mohammedan physician from sheer obscurity to that of leadership over millions, it may be safe to predict that he will still play an important role in the history of the next years.

His ascendancy to power is, just like the rise of the native movement, a product of the world-wide depression and the resulting political strife.

His Hopes Shattered

Born of moderately wealthy parents, Ben Djelloul was sent as a young man to study in France, just like thousands of others of young natives. All over the Orient, a degree of a university entitles its bearer to a position in the colonial administration. Ben Djelloul's ambition was to become a government physician. But his hopes as well as those of his native co-students,

Premier Albert Sarraut of France who summoned the Colonial Council to Paris to deal with the native demonstration were shattered by the onslaught of the depression. Due to the scarcity of jobs in the motherland, the colonial administration jobs were filled to a large measure by white graduates from France.

This one-sided distribution of patronage embittered the jobless native intelligentsia and automatically created a class of leaders for the liberty-craving natives.

Another grievance of the colonies is the levying of excessive duties on the cheap Algerian wine which prior to the depression found its chief market in France. Harassed by the crisis, French winegrowers prevailed upon the government to shut out native products. Widespread unemployment and even starvation resulted in the colonies.

Outbreaks Begin

The first outbreaks on the part of the natives were the riots of August, 1934. In March, 1935, a French government commission visited the colonies and at this occasion, Dr. Ben Djelloul was delegated by his fellow Islamites to present the colonies' grievances. Remedy was promised by the government, but apparently the natives are still unappeased.

Now the cry of "Vive l'Hitler" arises again all over French North Africa. Of course, Dr. Ben Djelloul has cleverly timed his year's campaign for jobs and tax reductions with Hitler's occupation of the demilitarized Rhine zone. With trouble on its German frontier France, anxiously deliberates now how to cope with the rising menace of the "Hitler of Algeria."

FOR CHICKEN THEFTS

Zanesville, (AP)—Deputy Gloria Grafton Wilson held Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gallagher, formerly of West Virginia, in connection with thefts of chickens in Muskingum county. The prisoners, who pleaded innocent of theft charges, were held to the grand jury under bond of $1,500 each. Wilson said they had taken more than 150 chickens, and that Mrs. Gallagher confessed that she planned seven other raids on chicken coops which were halted by their arrests.

SIXTEEN 3-YEAR-OLDS, ONE A FILLY, AWAIT CALL OF "BOOTS AND SADDLES" FOR DERBY

BREVITY REMAINS FAVORITE

Grand Slam Expected to Be Chief Challenger If Track Muddy

AND RAIN PREDICTED
However, More Than One Outsider Has Won Turf Classic

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Louisville, Ky., May 1.—(AP)—Sixteen three-year-olds, one of them a filly, rested in their stalls today as the Derby fever tightened its grip on this thoroughbred capital in preparation for the 62nd running of the turf classic at Churchill Downs late Saturday.

Close to 60,000 are expected to pack the quarter-mile long grandstand and overflow into the flower-covered infield Saturday. Many will get only a fleeting glimpse of the horses as they match strides over one and one-quarter miles for the purse of $10,000.

The horses themselves played little part in the pre-race hysteria. They went through short workouts this morning and then retired to their closely guarded stalls to wait the call to "boots and saddle" Saturday at about 4:30 p. m. (CST). The horses for the first event of the eight-race program will be called to the post at 12:30. The Derby is scheduled sixth on the card.

After it had all simmered down, Joseph Early Widener's Brevity remained the horse to beat. Winner of five of his six races, the filly has come up to the classic in perfect condition. He equalled what was then the world record of 1:48 1-5 for one and one-eighth miles in winning the Florida Derby.

His one race and workouts here took nothing from his standing. Widener has never won the Derby, but this appears to be his year. If the track is fast, Brevity is expected to be held at 7 to 5 or shorter odds. If the going is heavy, he probably still will retain his position as the favorite but at longer odds.

The track was sloppy for Thursday's races. The weather man predicts local showers Saturday but holds out a 50-50 chance that the sun will shine at Derby time.

For the first time in many years, the hardboots were not shouting for Bradley. The master of Idle Hour, winner of four Derbies and usually a strong supporter of his own horses, is none too strong on Bien Joli and Banister. He jumped on the band wagon and selected Brevity. But it is recalled that neither Burgoon King nor Broker's Tip, winners in 1932 and 33, respectively, was highly regarded.

If Brevity is beaten, the consensus is that it will be by one of three horses—William Woodward's Granville, Morton L. Schwartz's Bold Venture or the Bonar Stable's Grand Slam. The latter probably will rival Brevity for favoritism if the track is muddy for he ran his best two-year-olds races over heavy tracks.

Three Ohio State Teams Slated To See Action
Columbus, O., May 1.—(AP)—Ohio State University's track team will tangle with the University of Michigan here Saturday as the feature in a program of athletic events which will see three other Scarlet and Gray teams in action. The O. S. U. baseball team will play Notre Dame, and Michigan's tennis and golf teams will invade the campus for matches. The Bucks remained favorites to cop the track event.

MATCH POSTPONED
Wet courts at Chillicothe caused the cancellation of the scheduled tennis match between Chillicothe High and Bloomingburg High Thursday afternoon.

A call from the Ross county city put the "No Game" sign on the match, which will be fought out Tuesday of next week unless the weather interferes.

The Bloomingburg squad consists of Friend, Carter, Noble, and Scott.

SPORTS

LION BASEBALLERS OUT AFTER UNIFORMS

COMMITTEE OF THREE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE POSSIBILITY OF ACQUIRING UNIFORMS WITH HELP OF THE MERCHANTS OF WASHINGTON C. H.

The desire to be uniformed seizing them, the Washington High School baseballers are now working out a plan to see if suits can be purchased.

Leesburg's suits, it was noted, were acquired through the merchants in that village of 830 persons. Through these lads who visited Wilson Field recently, the Lions got together and after talking it over decided they too could get uniforms in the same way.

The lads went to Principal Dwight B. Ireland and asked if they could investigate the possibility of acquiring suits. The Principal saw no reason to refuse an investigation, so a committee of three of the team was appointed.

As a result of "Chiefy" Lawrence, Martin Winkle, and "Part-ridge" Aldridge are soliciting the merchants and business organizations in the city to try find out if they can get uniforms. The boys expect to be squared away and to know by Saturday whether or not the idea will work.

The plan is simple enough. Each merchant who agrees to buy a suit will have the name of his firm on the back of the uniform.

And if the merchants take as much interest in this new sport at Washington High as the boys have, then the team'll have suits shortly.

FAYETTE-CO. TEAMS SLATED FOR BATTLES AS SEASON ADVANCES

Pickups at Jeff. Sox at New Holland Are Feature Games

Although they have been in several warm-up meetings before, Fayette County baseball teams start the season in real earnest this Sunday with games and practices slated.

The New Holland Reds, with a good record to keep up, entertain the Columbus Red Sox at the Helfrich Rathskeller diamond, just this side of New Holland, Sunday afternoon.

Manager Terry Lyons will undoubtedly start Shadel Saunders on the hill top, with "Shorty" Williams, Washington C. H. lad, behind the bat.

Several new faces are expected in the lineup, announces Mike Helfrich, backer of the team. And most likely the new men will be in the out-garden posts, says Mike.

The Jeffersonville crew will meet the Palmer Pick-ups, at the Jeff let providing the weatherman gives his permission, it has been announced.

Milledgeville, piloted by "Happy" Lass, will either meet a nearby team on the Villagers' diamond or hold a practice tilt among the members.

Powers, who was with Sabina last season, will twirl for the Milledgevillians this season, it is understood, with Flint, another Sabina player, on the receiving end of the pair.

Cozy Corners' nine will be sent through its initial practice of the year at their diamond, announces Manager James Byers. Several teams have been lined up but none definitely booked as yet.

TIGER BOSS

OUT OF GAME NOW TOO

Cochrane Is Hit by Foul and Injured—So He's on Bench with Greenberg

BEES BEAT REDS AGAIN

Yankees Tounce Indians with Traded Hurler

Mickey Cochrane, battling manager of the Detroit Tigers, awoke today with reason for sour reflection on the latest twists of fate.

The plucky manager who led his team to Baseball's highest glory last year finds now that the laurelled way of yesterday can turn quickly into the thorny low road of today. This season has been one bad break after another as far as the Tigers are concerned and they take the field today with neither Cochrane nor his ace thumper, Hank Greenberg active.

Cochrane was hit by a foul in the losing game against the Senators Thursday and his instep was so bruised that he was expected to be out of the lineup for three days. He will join Greenberg on the sidelines, the latter suffering from a fractured wrist that is expected to keep him out of action for six weeks.

This is the third time in the young season that Cochrane has been forced out of action by physical disability. An injured thumb and eye trouble forced him to forego action on two other occasions.

A ninth inning single that Jake Powell slapped down the third baseline scored Buddy Myer with the run that gave the Senators an 8-7 victory.

The day's play showed a wide diversification in pitching effectiveness.

Monte Pearson, obtained from the Indians for Johnny Allen in a winter trade, somewhat justified the judgment of the Yankees' brains department when he pitched an 8-1 victory over the Indians with Allen opposing him.

The Athletics belted over the Browns 12-8 with 25 hits ringing off the hickory while the Red Sox continued their heavy clouting with a 16-4 conquest of the White Sox in which 31 safeties were made.

The Browns used five pitchers in an attempt to stem the Mackem's attack. The Red Sox got a dozen passes along with 18 hits.

Paul, the younger of the Dean brothers, accounted for his first victory of the season 3-2, although the Giants outbit the Cardinals 11-5. Joe Moore of the Giants had a big day at bat with four safeties, one a two-bagger.

Tex Carleton of the Cubs shaded Dutch Brandt of the Dodgers in the closest mound duel of the day, an engagement that went 11 innings before the Cubs won 2-1. Carleton allowed seven hits and Brandt four more as both twirlers went the distance. Billy Herman, the doubles king of last year, got two more to raise his season's total to 11.

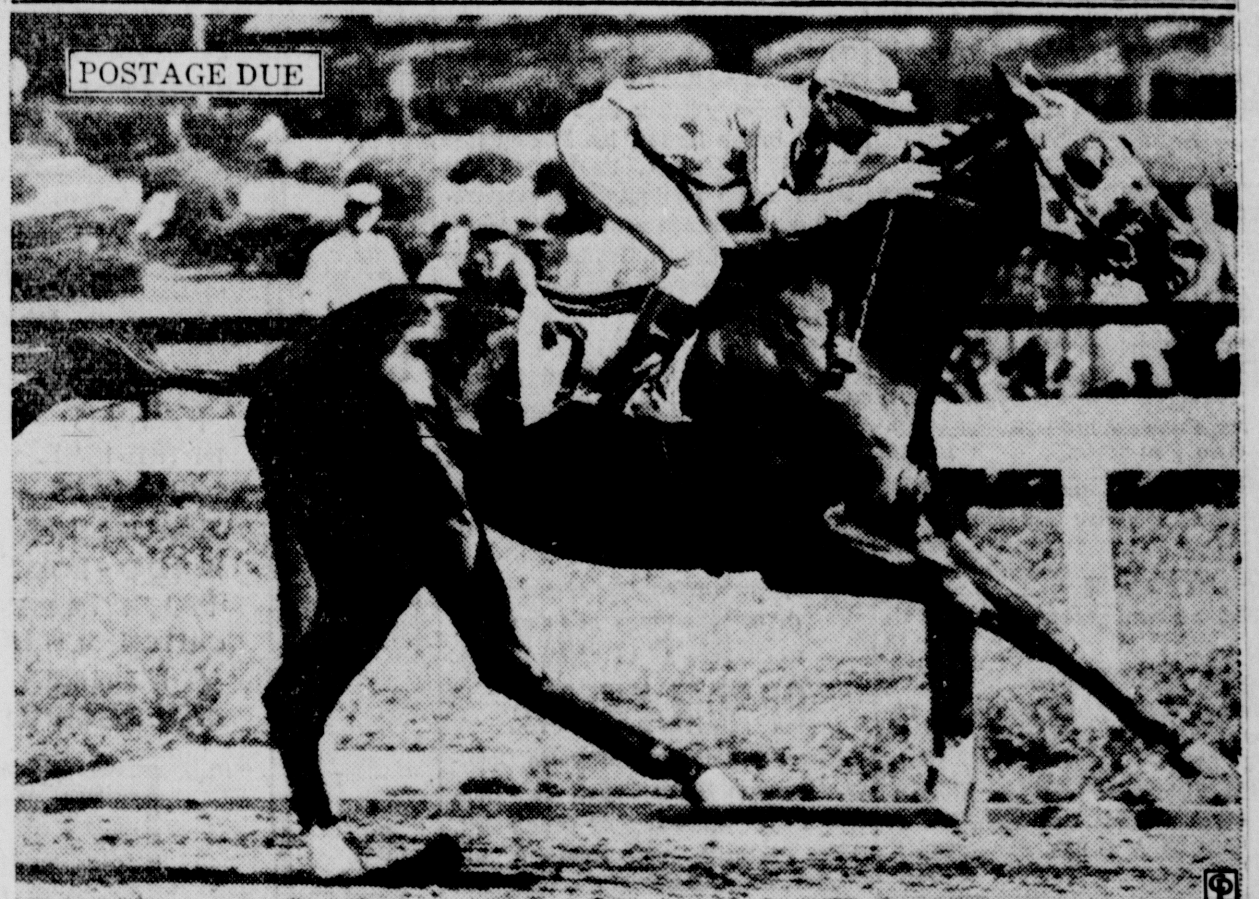

Danny MacFayden pitched five hit balls as the Bees downed the Reds 3-1. The bespectacled hurler allowed only one walk as he set back the team that has raised havoc with the more powerful clubs of the league. Bill Brubaker, subbing at third base, walloped a homer to give the Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Phillies. The hit came in the sixth inning with two on.

11 IN HONOR SOCIETY

Greenfield, May 1.—(Special)—Eleven McClain High School athletes have been awarded membership in the National Athletic Scholarship Society. Fred B. R. Duckworth has announced.

Those named to the organization were Leslie Pointer, Robert Jackson, William Jury, John Clements, Richard Davis, Wendell Barr, Clyde Nicely, Edwin Schmidt, and William Harper.

OUT OF THE KENTUCKY DERBY FEEDBOX

Smartest of the Sagamore stable candidates for the Kentucky Derby is Postage Due, despite his inconsistency. When Postage Due is "right" he runs a splendid race. Postage Due is a stablemate of the great Discovery, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's handicap star. Vanderbilt was leading money winner among American horse owners last year. If Postage Due catches some of the spirit of the stable, he should be a formidable contender Saturday, at Churchill Downs.

Though he recently disappointed in Maryland, Postage Due gave a fine account of himself as a juvenile, winning six of his 13 starts, placing in three races and taking show money once. Out of the money only three times! Most important of his victories were the Eastern Shore and United States Hotel stakes.

Postage Due can run in the mud and his breeding suggests a liking for distance. He is a son of High

Time out of Postage. Since Postage is a Fair Play mare, Postage Due can claim some kinship to Man O'War, son of Fair Play-Mahubah. With that kind of blood, it might be said Postage Due should be able to run to a point far enough to call for plenty of "Postage Due" on a letter from Louisville.

The chestnut colt is sure to be smartly trained for the race by J. H. (Bud) Stotler, and with Jockey Bejshak on his back figures to have a chance. Postage Due will be a "dark horse" with the odds juicy because of his inconsistency.

No Games Played In A. A. on Friday; None on Schedule

HARD-HITTING BLUES NOW ON HOME LOT WITH SUBSTANTIAL LEAD

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—If playing in their home park is any advantage, the heavy-hitting Kansas City Blues may start increasing their lead today in the American Association.

The Blues meet the Toledo Mudhens in Kansas City to open their home season after an eastern invasion on which Kansas City won nine games while losing only two. Manager "Dutch" Zwilling's aggregation, leading the Association in team batting, stamped themselves as a definite flag contender by their road showing in which they won several games by coming from behind.

In second place in the western clubs open at home at the St. Paul Saints, with 10 wins and four losses. Minneapolis, the defending champion, had seven wins and four defeats in its first road trip.

There were no games scheduled yesterday. In addition to the Kansas City-Toledo game, the Louisville Colonels meet the Brewers at Milwaukee, St. Paul entertains Columbus, and Indianapolis plays at Minneapolis.

SEEK TO KNOCKOUT FARLEY FRAUD ORDER

New York, May 1.—(P)—The Golden Stakes Advertising Corporation filed suit in the U. S. District Court for injunctions restraining Postmaster Albert Goldman of New York from putting into effect the fraud order issued by Postmaster General James A. Farley on the grounds the contests the corporation conducts are really lotteries.

Attorneys for the Golden Stakes contended in papers filed Friday that their plan of business was submitted to the post office department last winter and was approved. Thus assured, the complaint said, the concern went to considerable expense to carry on.

THE CAMDEN RUBY MURDER

by ADAM BLISS

"Yes. It is—murder!"

Van Every was still in his chair, Soon standing near him.

Narro was taking a long time. I glanced at my watch. Two o'clock. As late as that? Margalo, Van Every, and I must have arrived about 11:30. At least that. No, I had forgotten; we had eaten before we came. We must have reached Van Every's house about midnight.

My ears caught a murmur in the library. Then silence again. I imagined my eyes sought the couch. Van Every, too, looked up quickly.

"Taking a long time," I mumbled, more to hear my voice, any sound at all, than wait in this deadly silence. Soon's eyes were turned toward the library.

Then Van Every and I sprang forward. Narro's head had appeared through the curtains, beckoning us. I entered the library first. Immediately my eyes sought the couch. I could see nothing, not even the gleam of Margalo's hair under the light. A blanket covered the form on the sofa.

"I have called the police, Van Every. They will be here presently. It was all I could do."

"Police?" I sang out.

"Yes, Maughan. It is—murder!"

I could not speak; I could only look at Narro's dark, smiling face. I heard Van Every's voice asking something, and Narro's answer, "I'll explain when the police come."

Margalo murdered! I could not believe it, would not! How could she possibly have been murdered with me sitting near her, almost touching her? Van Every on the other side, not more than six feet away.

How?

My brain was whirling with unanswered questions. I sought a reply in Narro's eyes, but he sat quite still, smoking, in the chair I had occupied during the story Van Every had told. He was looking at nothing in particular, but his eyes would not meet mine.

Van Every was standing, dumbly, the ruby in his hands, unable to realize yet the tragedy that had happened in his library.

I fumbled for a cigarette, lighted it, and threw it away immediately. It tasted bitter to me, horrible.

The room was the same, except that Margalo was lying under the blanket on the couch. There was the table in the same place, three glasses on it, two of them empty, one full. Margalo's. She had not drunk it. Had she been dead throughout the tale Van Every had spun? Impossible! Her ash tray, with the cigarette now all cinders, someone had placed on the table near the glasses. Narro, probably.

Margalo murdered! Again I fought with the facts. All I had to go on was what Narro had said. Murdered! If it were true, who had done it? I could think of no one. I, who thought I knew so much about Margalo, knew so very, very little. Almost nothing.

She hadn't been shot, God, not if she had, I would have heard the report of the gun. Even with a silence I would have heard it. But Narro would explain presently when the police came. Police! Margalo! It was all too terrible. I sank on a chair, away from the couch, away from the burden it held, away from the fire.

Presently there were footsteps on the stairs, and Soon's head appeared in the open doorway.

Back of him, towering above him, were three men. They brushed him aside and entered the room.

"Dr. Narro?" one of them asked.

Narro rose and half bowed. "I am Dr. Narro."

"Keyes is my name, captain of detectives. This is Dr. Frank, and Detective McManus."

There were introductions all around after that, and after they were over Keyes tore the blanket off the still figure on the couch. A low whistle escaped his lips.

"Margalo Younger!" he exclaimed.

"This is serious business."

"I think so," Narro agreed. "I will explain hurriedly my part in this and then," he pulled his watch from his pocket, "I'll have to go."

"Go on," Keyes ordered.

"Maughan called me from here at 1:25, called me at my home where I had just retired. Said, if I remember rightly, that I was needed right away. A woman was ill. I dressed and came—I live only two blocks away, so I did not call my car. Van Every is a regular patient of mine, but he has never called at this time of night. I imagined the call had something to do with his niece. I knew it was serious, so I came as soon as I could. It could not have taken me more than 15 minutes to get here. That would make the time of my arrival 1:40 or so. I found that—Miss Younger was dead when I came."

"I thought at first it was a hemorrhage, but was not sure, so I examined the body hurriedly. I found—"

Narro hesitated.

The room was very quiet, deathly still. I leaned forward to hear better what he was to say.

"I found buried in Miss Younger's hair, a sharp needle-like instrument fixed in the base of the brain. I left it, of course. At first I thought it was a hairpin. Undoubtedly it caused almost instant death, although I have no idea how it got there, nor why. If you'll excuse me, now, gentlemen, I'll go."
